The Commission, having ascertained that a total of 33 applications are admissible, proceeds to evaluate the CVs and motivational letters of the applicants, on the basis of the criteria and scores indicated below.

Criteria	Maximum points
To be a Young Ambassador of the "End Climate Change - Start Climate of Change" project in any EU Member State.	10
Have already been actively involved in "End Climate Change - Start Climate of Change" project activities in any EU Member State.	5
Educational and/or work experience in the field of the issues covered by the project: climate change, environmental justice, migration, colonialism, anti-racism.	20
Personal, academic and/or professional motivations.	20
Total	55 Points

On the basis of the above evaluation grid, points were awarded to applicants and, consequently, a ranking was drawn up for them (Annex 1). It should be noted that, in awarding the points, the completeness and level of detail of the information presented in the CVs was considered as an element of added value. For those candidates who indicated in their application form that they are Young Ambassadors of the CoC project (10 points) and that they had taken part in CoC project activities (5 points), it was decided to consider 10 points in total. Furthermore, taking into account the specificities of the ECCAR event and based on the characteristics of the applications received, an attempt was made to maintain a balance of gender (4 females and 2 males) and of origin (3 from Italy and 3 from other countries) among the participants, valuing the candidates' commitment to activities at local/city level, an important aspect in the ECCAR context. It was also decided to dedicate two of the six available places to candidates who have not yet had experience with the CoC project but who have nevertheless gained experience with the topics covered by the project and have strong motivation to participate.
